WELCOME to the Spring, 2019 UCF University Band. This semester promised to be a very exciting one, with two concerts, both combined with our “sibling ensemble,” the UCF Concert Band. Contained in this syllabus is both general and specific information regarding expectations, rehearsal schedules, performances, and grading. If, at any time, throughout the course of the semester, you have any questions or needs, please don’t hesitate to visit or contact me at your convenience.

Course Description

The UCF University Band is a performance ensemble comprised of undergraduate and graduate students at the University of Central Florida, presenting multiple concerts each semester and performing a variety of the finest and most enjoyable literature written for wind band. Participation in the ensemble allows for the continued growth and development of both individual and ensemble performance skills. Opportunities are also provided for the study of music in a variety of cultural and historical contexts.

Course Objective

Course objectives for MUS 3123L address the following Department of Music Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Offering outstanding undergraduate programs in music that provide students with the comprehensive knowledge, skills, and experiences to be successful and sophisticated creators, performers, scholars, and consumers of music.
2. Offering flexible graduate programs in music.
3. Cultivating and sustaining regional, national, and international collaborations & partnerships with professional and educational organizations.
4. Promoting inclusiveness and diversity in curricula, performances, scholarly research and creative activities.
5. Providing quality performances, workshops, clinics, master classes to students, music educators, and the general public.

Concerts

Please plan for the performances listed below. Every effort will be made to notify you of call time and other details, or any modifications of plans in a timely a fashion.

Sunday, February 24, 2019, 7pm – UCF Visual Arts Building Auditorium

Sunday, April 14, 2019. 7pm – UCF Visual Arts Building Auditorium

General Information & Expectations

- Communication will be handled primarily via e-mail. Students are required to have an active UCF e-mail account and to check it daily, during the academic year. Students who have some challenge with the use of a ucf.edu email account should contact me immediately so we can establish an alternate means of communication.

- Each member of the UCF University Band is expected to be prepared for rehearsals and be on time (ready to begin rehearsals at the prescribed time), which implies being seated and warming up prior to the start of rehearsal time. Preparation means both individual practice and collaborative sectional rehearsals, as needed, and arriving in ample time to set up the necessary equipment for rehearsal (i.e. percussion). Students who are not in their seat, ready to play when tuning begins, will be marked late.
- Rehearsals – both in small and large group settings – should be collaborative endeavors. Information and various perspectives on the works being prepared, their composers, history & programs will be incorporated toward the most informed & artistic individual and collective performance interpretations.

Concert Attire

- For large ensemble concerts, performance attire consists of all-black dress (knee-length or longer) or slacks (jeans, leggings, etc. are not acceptable) with all-black button-down dress shirt or dress top with shoulders or straps on both sides (please no spaghetti straps) with solid black socks or hose and all-black dress shoes. Black ties are acceptable, as are black suit or tuxedo (w/black shirt). Any variations will be communicated to students in a timely manner.

Grading

- As outside preparation is an essential part of facilitating a successful experience for the entire ensemble, students are expected to practice their parts diligently between rehearsals. Playing tests will be administered only if deemed necessary to ensure that appropriate mastery is occurring.
- Final grades will be based on a combination of attendance, attitude, participation/collaboration, ensemble awareness, technical & musical preparation, and artistic/expressive development. Absences will lower your grade significantly, as will unexcused late arrivals or early departures (see attendance policy, below).
- All members of the UCF Concert Band are expected to participate fully in all ensemble activities, including all rehearsals, on and off-campus performances, and other ensemble events, detailed in the course syllabus and/or calendar.

Attendance Policy

- Accepting a position in the UCF University Band implies a commitment to all regularly scheduled rehearsal times, as well as dress rehearsals and performances. If individual or isolated conflicts arise, please communicate those to me in a timely fashion (minimum 2 wks advance notice, whenever possible). Failure to do so will result in the absence, late arrival, or early departure being marked unexcused.
- There is an understanding that there may be times that advance notice is not realistic – such as illness/injury, or example. In those circumstances, students should make every effort to communicate directly with the director as immediately as possible. If extenuating circumstances make this impossible, students should see the director in person as immediately following the absence as possible. Please note that work, study groups for other classes, vacations, and “personal days” are not considered excuses for absences, late arrivals, or early departures.
- Final determination as to whether an absence, late arrival, or early departure is excusable rests with the ensemble director.

Additional:

- Unexcused late arrival or early departure = 0.5 unexcused absence
- Missing a Dress Rehearsal or Performance may result in dismissal from the ensemble and a failing grade in the course
- Two (2) absences may result in the lowering of your final semester grade by one (1) full letter. Each successive two (2) absences will result in the lowering of your semester grade by one (1) additional letter.
- A Student missing more than 4 rehearsals prior to a concert, or absent during the week of a concert, may be denied the opportunity to perform at the concert for the sake of the overall ensemble performance. This will be at the discretion of the director.

Academic Activity Documentation

All faculty members are required to document students' academic activity at the beginning of each course. In order to document that you began this course, please complete the brief online assignment posted in WebCourses by the end of the first week of classes ("First Week Quiz"). Failure to do so will result in a delay in the disbursement of your financial aid.

Instruments

Students needing to use a university-owned instrument should see Mr. David Schreier, UCF Assistant Director of Bands, in M216 as immediately as possible.

Folders and Music

Folders and music will be issued to each student and will be collected following performances. It is understood that the music and folders will be returned in the same condition in which they were issued. Be sure all marks are in pencil so they may be erased. Students will be assessed for any music that is lost or damaged. Grades will be withheld until all music is returned or fines paid.
